

These days, the technology for blogging on the move – updating a website with regular text and photos – is something that's relatively straightforward. But when Clive Tully took part in an attempt to break the record for circumnavigating the world by powerboat in 2002, it was nowhere near as easy, particularly as he was often typing in the kind of conditions which were inflicting injuries, and uploading via satellite connections which were far from reliable. As Spirit of Cardiff's onboard journalist, Clive's job was to keep the boat's many thousands of followers around the world updated with news of their progress. "Blogging all over the World – Spirit of Cardiff's epic voyage around the world told as it happened" takes the entire run of Clive's website updates (or blogs) and presents them in an easy to read Kindle format, complete with some extra explanation, and foreword by Spirit of Cardiff skipper Alan Priddy.
